INTERNATIONAL POSITIONING

DON'T BEGIN WITH WHERE YOU WANT TO MOVE. BEGIN WITH THE VALUE YOU CAN DELIVER.

For internationally mobile professionals, the strongest positioning starts with relevant capability, documented evidence and a credible professional proposition - not with a visa category.

1. Identify the country or regional need.

2. Position your discipline against that need.

3. Apply it to a relevant project or service environment.

4. Build the evidence and professional record.

The Institute does not provide immigration guarantees. Where a TBP hub entity is legally established, authorised to employ and holds any sponsor registration or approval required in that jurisdiction, a selected candidate who secures a genuine qualifying role may be considered for employer sponsorship or international placement support. Any outcome remains subject to capability, role requirements, applicable law and immigration approval.
